RRI Strategic Priorities for 2015

Overarching Priorities

1. Overall: Hold the ground won, and scale-up positive changes in all regions. Key 2015 focus countries include Nepal, Indonesia, Colombia, Peru, Mali, and the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC). Goals include: the new Nepali Constitution includes community forest rights; the new Indonesian government’s commitments toward recognizing indigenous tenure and implementing the Supreme Court decision are realized; the Colombian government recognizes the authority of Afro-Descendent Local Councils’ collective rights to their traditional lands on the Caribbean coast; Peruvian government recognition of indigenous territories is scaled up in collaboration with FIP, Norway-German-Peru agreements, and other initiatives; the Malian peace process incorporates a strong collective tenure framework, with support from the High Council of Territorial Collectivities; the Democratic Republic of the Congo’s National Land Commission (CONAREF) and national civil society platform on tenure (CACO) endorse the RRI tenure baseline study analysis so that it can be incorporated into the New Land Law.

2. Achieve strategic outcomes in the international arena, including: 1) Key climate donors/REDD+ and international organizations implement support committed for scaling up indigenous and community land rights in their priorities; 2) 3-4 influential companies and investors adopt guidelines for compliance of their operations and due diligence with the land rights of Indigenous Peoples and local communities; 3) WB Carbon Fund adjusts approach to incorporate safeguards respecting land and resource rights of Indigenous Peoples and local communities; 4) RRI contributes to the evaluation of the EU FLEGT Action Plan, strengthening relevance to the SDGs and support for community land rights and enterprise; 5) RRI Global Baseline on recognition of community land rights adopted by the Call to Action and used to develop indicators for the SDGs, 6) International NGOs and organizations, organized in Working Groups, collaborate more effectively and efficiently to scale up recognition of community land rights.

3. The RRI Coalition: 1) Adopts a new Memorandum of Understanding that establishes a strong foundation for the next five years of RRI’s work and collaboration, 2) Increases communication and learning amongst Partner organizations and between Partner organizations and RRG in an effort to better leverage capacities and take advantage of synergies within the coalition, 3) Strenthen its existing RRI-supported networks while expanding its reach through engagement of new networks, international organizations, and constituencies, primarily those representing Indigenous Peoples and community organizations, 4) Amplifies, expands and deepens the impact of RRI activities through strategically targeted communications activities and strategic support to local actors.

4. RRG: 1) Financial, administrative, and business systems procured and designed to reduce transaction costs and improve information-sharing and efficiencies across the coalition; 2) Forecasted revenue targets for RRI’s Framework Program II and the ILFTF are achieved, 3) Analytical and communications teams strengthened and better support coalition agendas; 4) Systems to better quantify key results are established and functioning; 5) Senior management more effectively leading and supporting RRG team.

5. The International Land and Forest Tenure Facility (ILFTF): 1) Institutional design, including governance, staffing, and accountability mechanisms is completed; 2) location is identified; 3) Consultation processes with Indigenous Peoples, community groups, governments and private investors that inform the operational design of the Facility are completed; 4) Advisory Group is fully effective and synergizes with other relevant institutions; 5) four pilot projects are launched.

<tr>
<td>• Carry out country-level research and analysis, advocacy, and convening to generate new legislation, regulations or improved implementation by governments to establish forest tenure rights.</td>
<td>Africa&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Liberia&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: The main RRI Collaborators in Liberia redefine their advocacy strategy on forest and land tenure rights to avoid rollback in communities, as well as their re-engagement strategy with government institutions and corporates around industrial-scale palm oil development in the aftermath of the Ebola virus outbreak.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Build regulatory capacity and standards within the private sector engaged in agribusiness, forest sector, FLEGT, REDD+ as well as promote mechanisms for responsible international investments in priority countries.</td>
<td>Cameroon&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: The RRI coalition in Cameroon agrees on a single, harmonized, and integrated proposal to influence the land reform process. A draft forest law inclusive of civil society proposals and in favor of local communities’, women’s, and Indigenous Peoples’ tenure rights is adopted by the National Assembly. An RRI Cameroon coalition monitoring system/observatory allows for better monitoring of the various reform processes underway.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Country and Regional programs will engage government, policymakers and private sector drawing on strategic actors from the NGO and social/policy research sectors to share emerging reform lessons, build voice and capacity and smooth ongoing transitions to pro-poor and gender justice outcomes.</td>
<td>DRC&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: The national civil society platform on tenure (CACO) influences ongoing land reform processes through better representation and participation in the national land commission (CONAREF) and its decentralized bodies. A draft Decree for the application of article 389 on customary land tenure rights is produced by CACO and submitted to CONAREF for adoption. The DRC Parliament adopts the Law on the Basic Principles of Indigenous Peoples/Pygmies’ (PAP) Rights. Decree 14/019 of 02 August 2014 on environmental and social impact assessment studies’ procedures is appealed, discussed, and validated by civil society organizations to include environmental and social protection indicators.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Burkina Faso&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: Experiences of integrating gender and climate change in Regional Development Plans (PRDs) and Communal Development Plans (PCDs) are documented, showcased, and put at the disposal of decentralized institutions such as Communes. The drafting process and development of local land charters are documented and showcased as options for securing land at the local level. Women’s groups achieve legal ownership of collective land tenure rights through local land certificates. Local communities’ land and forest tenure rights are included in TENFOREST and the national civil society platform on REDD+’s strategy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Mali&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: The decree is passed for the transfer of competencies and resources to Territorial Collectivities, the Agricultural Land Policy (ALP), the Agricultural Land Law (ALL), the Policy on Agropoles and a law on Local Conventions are all adopted by the National Assembly and include land security provisions for local communities, small producers and women. The main stakeholders in Mali’s national peace building and reconciliation process recognize and integrate local community’s tenure rights in the national peacebuilding strategy.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Senegal&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: A single harmonized civil society proposal to influence the land reform process is drafted. Parliamentarians, journalists, religious leaders, and women and youth groups are aware of the importance of local community’ rights in the land reform process. The Project for Inclusive and Sustainable Development of Agribusiness in Senegal (PDIDAS) land tenure scheme respects local rights and serves as a model for land reform.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Ghana&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;Key Outcomes: Secured and strengthened forest communities’ land tenure rights in Ghana’s policy and legal reforms.</td>
